LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

A glorious fall.
Some frosty mornings the past week.

County court proceedings are printed this week.

A new slate roof is being put on the I. O. O. F. Hall.

Circuit court convenes in Reynolds county next Monday.

Arcadia Valley Booster Envelopes at the REGISTER office.

Numerous duck hunters at the Iron Mountain lake this fall.

Teachers' meeting at Annapolis next Saturday, November 23d.

Eggs mighty scarce and the price 30 cents. Butter, 30 and 35 cents.

The Thanksgiving oyster supper at the Kandy Kitchen—don't forget it.

The thermometer was down to eighteen a couple of nights the past week.

The band boys were out serenading the successful candidates Friday night.

These frosty mornings give comfort to the warming rays of the noonday sun.

Thursday of next week is Thanksgiving. Few turkeys have as yet appeared.

The hub factory resumed operations last week after a shut-down of several months.

NOTICE—Special price on two or more coats, cloak and skirt, or two overcoats, at B. N. Brown's.

Taken up—One black sow, crop off left ear and split in right ear. Apply to A. G. Russell, near Ironton.

It is said that there is a possibility of the Puxico Iron Company resuming work in the mines at Pilot Knob soon.

W. J. Lee of Arcadia was here a day or two this week on business connected with his factory at this place.—Centerville Outlook.

Mr. George Schultz Monday gave us a delicious pear that had been taken off the tree that morning. Pretty late in the season.

Taken up—At my farm two and a half miles northeast of Pilot Knob, a year and a half old heifer, red, slit in right ear. Elek Bolaze, Pilot Knob Mo.

It is said that a number of petitions for season license from various parts of the county, Ironton included, will be presented to the county court at the February term.

The landslide of November 5th our old friend, A. Riecke, says put him in bed for a couple of weeks. He is able to be out again, now, though, and hopes to improve right along.

The boys treated L. J. Schach to a charivari Wednesday night last week. A treat was produced and after a "tune" or two the musicians went on their way rejoicing.

Our long time friend, Squire J. H. Johnson, of Des Arc, was in Ironton Monday and made us a call. The Squire has been a continuous reader of the REGISTER for forty years.

It is stated that the Arcadia Valley Enterprise is about to change hands again. A young man by the name of Nations from Farmington, who has been working on the sheet a few weeks, is to be the new proprietor.

I. G. Whitworth and James D. Edgar spent three days of last week in Dunklin county shooting ducks. They say the ducks were never more plentiful and it was no trouble at all to slay them by the score. A. J. Langdon was with them.

We are indebted to our good Democratic friend, Mr. A. F. Kuehle, of Murphysboro, Ills., for a copy of the Murphysboro Independent, giving the election returns in Jackson county. The Democrats carried about everything in sight.

In giving the list of probable applicants for the Ironton post-office last week we inadvertently omitted the name of Prof. M. W. Daugherty. There may be others, too. At the proper time the matter will probably be decided by an election held by the Democratic patrons of the office.

There are twenty electric lights on the streets in Ironton and two in Arcadia. Arrangements should be made to put a light on the bridge between here and Arcadia, and then there would be light all the way from the north end of Ironton to southern Arcadia. By all means let us have a light on the bridge.

The county court last week granted Herman Amelung season license at Pilot Knob. There was no protest. J. E. Grandhomme of Ironton add Redmond Black of the west end of the county are the bondsmen. The saloon will open for business in a few days.

Work has begun on the steel wagon bridge across Black river near Williamsville. The bridge, we understand, will be a 90-foot span, 14 feet wide, and is being built by the Vincennes Bridge Company, Vincennes, Ind. Upon the completion of this bridge, work will begin on the Leeper bridge which is to be built by the same company.—Wayne County Journal.

There was brought to the REGISTER office last Saturday the most gorgeous bouquet of chrysanthemums that we have seen for many a day. Hidden among the flowers was this brief message: "A bouquet of Chrysanthemums for Mr. Ake that bloomed out with Wilson. Mrs. M. F. Lowe, Iron Mountain." The chrysanthemums certainly were beautiful and Mrs. Lowe has our most sincere thanks.

Otto Huit, one the "few" Republicans who managed to pull through at the recent election, went over to Farmington last Saturday to qualify for his office of constable of Randolph township. He was accompanied by Luther (Judge) Bess, whom he has appointed deputy. With these two competent and fearless officials in charge, our community is assured of two more years of peace and quietude.—Desloge Cor. Farmington News.

The Ironton Brass Band will give an oyster supper Thanksgiving afternoon and evening—four to ten o'clock. Oysters, 25c; coffee and cake, extra. The proceeds will go toward the purchase of instruments and music. The REGISTER urges all to help the "boys" out, for the object is good. A town without a brass band is not compatible with electric lights and granitoid sidewalks; therefore, let us try to keep all these things conforming. The supper will be served at the Kandy Kitchen.

Our young friend, R. L. Farmer, now living in Roswell, New Mexico, sends us the following, which is taken from the San Antonio, Texas, Express: "Praise God from whom all blessings flow; bring forth the cocks and let them crow; the party banner raise on high; let blazings reach to the sky; let horns be tooted, bells rung out, let trumpets blow, let people shout; let everybody dance with glee; confetti, let us scatter free; Democracy, O, bless the day—the one for which we oft did pray—has won, and now the jobs are ours. Henceforth we'll dwell in fairest bowers; in customs house we will hold sway; we'll sell the stamps and draw the pay; gee whizz, ain't there some fun in this? It surely is a time of bliss."

The Democrats of Campbell enjoyed themselves immensely after the election last week of Governor Wilson. Before the affair was concluded, however, the thing proved expensive to many spectators. A bonfire was started and a campaign commenced of grabbing hats from men's heads and throwing the same into the blazo. A traveling man whose home is in this city had boarded the train to leave and just as the train moved out his hat was grabbed from his head and the last he saw of it, it was sailing into the fire. He was compelled to ride several stations and go to his hotel through the night air hatless, with the result that he was suffering from a deep cold on his lungs when at home Sunday. It was estimated that about 200 hats were burned during the frolic.—Fredericktown Democrat-News.

The official canvass of the vote cast in Washington county on November 5th was made by the county clerk last Thursday. Little interest was taken in the proceeding, and the only change from the result of the election as previously announced was that Dr. J. A. Eaton was counted in as representative by a plurality of three votes over his Republican opponent. The vote of the county indicates a considerable lack of interest in the presidential campaign on part of the voters of both the big parties. The combined Taft and Roosevelt vote was only 1367, a falling off of 385 from the total vote given Taft four years ago, and was 140 less than the Republican vote of two years ago. The total vote for Wilson was 1122, a decline of 208 from that given Bryan four years ago, but was practically the same as that cast by the party two years ago.—Fotosi Journal.

The following is from the Poplar Bluff Citizen of November 15th: "While the horrible assault on Mrs. Lillian Mullane at Benson's Switch, near Annapolis in Iron County some weeks ago, was all strange enough, since the woman and her husband have been in this city it has become all the more strange. Mrs. Mullane to-day having told Chief Gardner an entirely different story. Mrs. Mullane cannot be found. Mrs. Mullane with tears in her eyes went to the police station and told Chief Gardner that she had been lying over since the Annapolis affair. The Chief had been closely questioning her and she said that the meeting of the thirteen men mentioned in the horrible assault story had been prearranged by her husband, thirty cents being the compensation. Her story to the Chief is too horrible to offer to the home companions of this paper. She went to the police station and gave the information after she had been abused by her husband, who was in a drunken condition, she says. Mullane has been in jail here twice since in Poplar Bluff and was released by Judge Kershner to-day to go to Ironton, where he was wanted by the prosecuting attorney, who is handling the case. Mrs. Mullane says he came to their abode in the West End, remaining there a short time. He gave her papers and then told her he would be five hundred miles away in twenty-four hours. The police are looking for him now and he is to be taken to Ironton at once. The authorities of Iron county are very desirous of prosecuting to the full extent of the law for the alleged violation, but if Mrs. Mullane continues to tell the recent story, of course, there will be less need for prosecution. The State has been carefully guarding the pair for fear they would be given some kind of inducement to alter their story or to drop the matter. We were asked to employ Mullane as a means of keeping him in this section, and it was done. The case becomes more mysterious constantly, but the officers are going to try to thrash it out. Mullane worked a few days but was arrested at the I. M. station for causing a disturbance and then his activities stopped. When interviewed a second time by Chief Gardner and urged to tell the truth and not to perjure herself when on the stand, Mrs. Mullane is said to have repeated of the prearranged meeting and to have told of being urged by her husband, who impressed the need for funds. Now the Citizen-Democrat has been unable to interview Mrs. Mullane, and her husband being out of reach of even the police, he could not be seen, hence the courtesy of taking a statement could not be extended them. As this paper is being printed the news comes that Mullane has been arrested and is in jail. The Iron county authorities have been notified and the Chief is awaiting instruction."

Circuit court convened in adjourned session last Monday for the purpose of trying the parties charged with having raped Mrs. Lily Mullane, near Annapolis, on October 19th. On the assembling of court the attorneys for the defense asked for a continuance, giving as reason therefor that new evidence of great importance in the case had developed within the past few days and counsel wanted more time to investigate. Court then took a recess in order for the attorneys to prepare the affidavits asking for a continuance. On the re-assembling of court, however, the defense did not present the motion for a continuance, but, instead, filed an affidavit alleging that Judge E. M. Dearing was biased and prejudiced against the defendants and could not give them a fair and impartial trial. This affidavit was sworn to by all eight of the defendants with John Webb of Annapolis and Robert Hill of Ironton as supporting witnesses. The filing of this affidavit disqualified Judge Dearing from further presiding in the case. The attorneys for the state and the defense could not agree on some member of the bar to sit as special judge in the case so Judge Dearing got in telephonic communication with Judge W. N. Evans, of West Plains, and that gentleman agreed to preside in the trial of the case December 16th. Court then adjourned to that date when the case will again be called for trial. The court room was taxed to its utmost capacity and the large crowd paid closest attention to the proceedings throughout. There were numerous spectators whose homes are twenty miles or more away. Not in years has there been a case in our court in which the people have evinced the interest that they have in this one. Mrs. Mullane, the prosecuting witness, was present in court, but her husband was absent. Mullane and wife and Attorney O. L. Munger left Poplar Bluff early Sunday morning on train No. 10 to come to Ironton. On arriving at Piedmont Mullane insisted that he was afraid to go through Annapolis on a train that stopped there, so the trio disembarked from No. 10 at Piedmont, intending to continue the journey to Ironton on train No. 4 that evening. During the day's wait at Piedmont Mullane disappeared and Mr. Munger and Mrs. Mullane had to come on to Ironton without him. Elsewhere is published an article from the Poplar Bluff Citizen telling of a statement Mrs. Mullane is alleged to have made to the officials there in reference to the Annapolis affair. Attorneys for the state here, however, say that the story Mrs. Mullane told the Poplar Bluff authorities does not differ materially from the statements she has made here, except that at Poplar Bluff she implicated her husband in the Annapolis crime. She is now in Ironton, where she will remain until after the trial. Some people think that Mullane was afraid to face the people of Iron county after his wife made the statement charging him with complicity in the affair at Annapolis.

From State Superintendent.
DR. E. L. BARNHART,
Secretary Board of Education,
Ironton, Mo.

Dear Sir—The High School Inspector of this Department reports that he visited your high school October 31st and November 1st. In his report to me he says the following:

1. Ironton High School is well organized. Much credit is due Mr. Loomis.
2. The consolidation of the school districts of Ironton and Arcadia has made it possible to have a more efficient school.
3. The equipment of the school should be supplied by the Board instead of having the students and teachers furnish funds by giving entertainments. If kept up, this practice may lessen the efficiency of the regular work of the school.
In accord with the recommendation of the Inspector, I have placed Ironton High School in the list of First Class approved high schools. Yours, truly,
WM. P. EVANS.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 11, 1912.

School Notes.

Hurrah for Ironton! The basketball game between Ironton and Fredericktown High Schools resulted in a score of 23 to 9 in favor of the home team. The Fredericktown team was plucky and put up a hard fight, but could not keep the final score from being turned one-sided. Quite a crowd gathered to see the game which gave substantial support to the team and their cheer; also made it possible to clear expense of the game. Ironton plays Doe Run High School at Doe Run, next Saturday, November 23d.

Once more, hurrah for Ironton! It is true, as stated in last week's issue of the REGISTER Ironton High School is now in the list of First Class Approved high schools. This is good news to all the Ironton children and they are going to celebrate the event with a Literary Program at the High School next Tuesday evening. The public is cordially invited to come and partake in the celebration. Some of the patrons are on the program. It is Thanksgiving time and the entertainment is free. Come, let us get together for better schools. Thanksgiving will be observed in the different rooms next Wednesday afternoon with appropriate exercises and programs. It will be a good day for you to visit the school.

The debate between the Ancient and Mediaeval history class promises to be a very interesting one. The boys and girls are working hard to prove which battle was of most consequence to civilization, the battle of Marathon or Waterloo. Ironton High School offers a $2 prize for the best ten ears of corn grown in Iron county during the season of 1912. Corn must be sent prepaid, or delivered to B. W. Loomis, Superintendent of Schools. The corn will be judged by a competent judge. A prize of one dollar will be given as a second prize.

Your old carpets made into new rugs. Let me call and show you the new samples.

Des Arc Items.

I recently met Mr. Taylor, Superintendent of the Moss Tie Company. He tells me that the front of the big raft of ties (1,000,000) had all arrived at Clearwater, but several thousand got away during a six feet rise on Black river. They washed under the boom, notwithstanding it was over four feet in depth. The raft started near Centerville September 21st. There were thirty men on the drive, with a boarding house boat, so you can see it costs something to raft ties. The Moss Tie Company is putting ties on the St. Francis river, near Reed Bond's. As the St. Francis is a slow, sluggish stream, I think floating ties thereon will be a slow business.

Mr. Hunsacker inspected a car of piling at Des Arc last week.

Mr. Wm. Ownsby with his family left here last week for California.

Theodore Lucy and family went to Oklahoma last week.

We are having a very interesting Sunday School. Prof. McKee gave a very interesting talk on the Turkey-Bulgarian war. He told us that Jerusalem and the surrounding country has been occupied by the Turks for 500 years, and they are a cruel and barbarous people. It looks like the land where Christ lived should be holy. It is worth any one's time to come out and hear Mr. McKee at the Baptist Sunday School. All are welcome.

Mrs. Phillips visited at her former home last week.

Lee Strader has a baby boy at his home. Mother and child doing well.

James Lovelace was in Des Arc to-day, after being sick for several weeks with typhoid fever.

John Lowe is also better.

Gus Williams and Ed Maddox were home last Sunday. Ed has brought his fine mare home.

I learn that the postmasters in the fourth-class offices will hold over. We are well satisfied with our postmistress and want no change.

I was traveling along the road in Virginia some years ago. Some two miles from my old home I saw old man J. W. Tyler. He was an older soldier than myself; he belonged to Company B, 15th Virginia Infantry, Pickett's division, and was in the famous charge at Gettysburg. He was sitting on his porch some 200 yards from the road. He seemed to be waiting for the train of death to take him to the heavenly home; for he was a good Christian man. The rest of us will soon follow. In fact, we are now, literally, at the station. I can almost see the smoke of the coming train. May God help us to be ready for the Master's call!

Bellevue Items.

Mr. Rice, father of Frank and Henry Rice, Graniteville, died in Graniteville Monday, and was buried in the Edison Cemetery, Tuesday afternoon. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Sittin. Mr. Rice, years ago, resided on a farm, 2 miles south of here, and although an invalid for several years, he lived to be an octogenarian. While the writer was not personally acquainted with him, it is with sincere respect for him, and profound sympathy for the bereaved family that the foregoing lines were written.

Wm. Kneese, who purchased 50 acres of land from J. H. Long, is preparing to build a dwelling house on the land. It is said that he expects to be able to remove his family to the farm between now and Christmas.

Tom Anderson, our mail man, has a new mail carrier on the route.

J. H. Long and wife visited John Moore and family Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Patterson, Minnie and Lola, visited Mrs. Chambers Sunday afternoon.

E. E. Chambers made a business trip to Bismarck Tuesday.

Mr. Landie was in Graniteville Tuesday.

Wm. Johnston had business in Ironton Thursday last.

Mrs. Latham, who recently spent several weeks visiting relatives in this valley, returned last week to her home in Reynolds county.

R. E. Johnston is building a new stone house, a short distance east of the old stand.

It is said that Mrs. P. G. Carty is in a very critical condition with inflammatory rheumatism.

Thomas Bell has recently been putting a new roof on his dwelling house.

Mrs. Theo. Oelschlaeger made a trip to St. Louis, recently.

H. Latham and wife made a trip to Centerville last week, and express themselves as having very much enjoyed the trip.

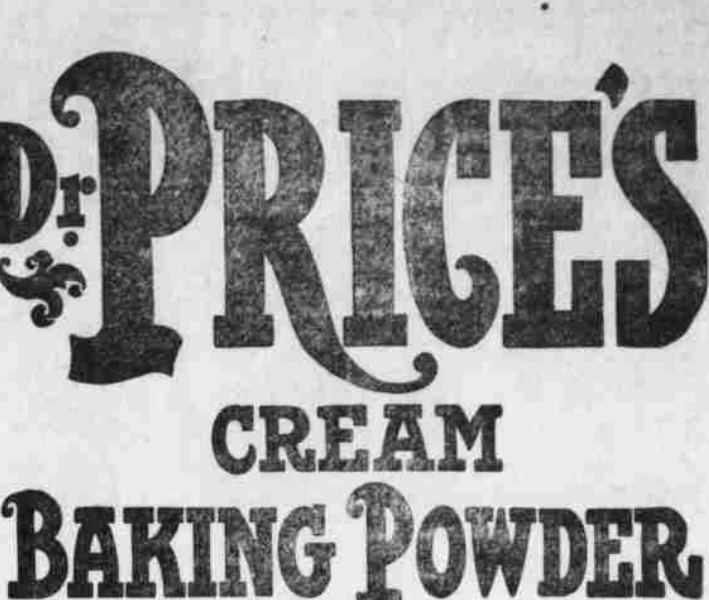

Mrs. Alfred Hale is reported to be improving somewhat, of which fact her friends are very glad.

Clarence Shelton and family, and his father-in-law, Mr. Burton, are now residents of this town. It is said that Mr. Shelton will be connected with the bank at this place.

Mrs. E. M. Logan spent Thursday with Mrs. Ann Logan.

Mr. Solinger, of Arcadia, was in Bellevue, Thursday.

Dr. Florence B. Miller, Osteopathic physician. Graduate under Dr. A. T. Still, founder of Osteopathy. Eleven years' experience as Osteopathic Practitioner. Office hours—Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from 2 to 5 P. M., and by appointment. Apply at old Grover place. Phone 158.—Adv.

Pure—Wholesome—Reliable—Indispensable

Its fame is world-wide. Its superiority unquestioned. Its use is a protection against alum food. In buying baking powder examine the label carefully and be sure the powder is made from cream of tartar. Other kinds do not make the food healthful.

Goodland Items.

This is certainly an ideal November.

Tom Carty, of Black, is working for F. M. Crocker. The sawmill is running full time and turning out lumber and ties galore.

The whooping cough is raging among the mill children.

Peruna mill, also, is running steadily.

Dr. Crenshaw, of St. Louis, a dentist stopped at Lovejoy for two weeks and extracted more than 200 teeth in this vicinity. He did some very fine work and will return next summer for a few weeks.

Mr. Marshall, a workman near Doyle, had his leg broken by a jolt of the wagon on which he was riding. His brother, from Sligo, a photographer, is caring for him and taking pictures.

Doyle, a new town, high among the Ozarks, is a pretty little place and is doing a fine business in railroad ties, lumber and wood. It is about six miles from Goodland.

Mrs. Lizzie Love has returned home from an extended visit to her children at Flat River, St. Louis and Columbia. She says just what everybody else does—that Columbia is the prettiest town in the state.

Mrs. J. M. Shrum is on the sick list.

Jno. Gallaher and A. Rayfield of Reynolds county were at Goodland lately looking for stray cattle.

M. G. Harrison and family were week end guests of S. L. Brooks.

A party of St. Louis men are camping at Goodland, and are enjoying the respite from the daily grind of business, this fine weather.

James Akers had a mare to die. She had been kicked by a strange mule and her shoulder broken.

C. R. Oesch and family, of St. Louis, are spending a month with Dr. Adams at the old home.

Dr. Bracy, of St. Louis, is the guest of Dr. Adams for a few days.

Mr. Evans, our railroad man, in company with the vice president of the Missouri Southern, were at Goodland last Saturday on business.

George Martin and family of Huzza spent last Sunday with the family of J. Helmes.

Last Saturday our teacher, Miss Pippins, celebrated her birthday by receiving presents from each one of her pupils. Of course she was very much gratified by this expression of esteem in which she is held by patrons as well as pupils.

Mrs. Rachel Akers and children spent last Sunday with her mother, grandma Brooks.

Dr. Adams has been quite sick for a few days.

M. E. Henderson is building a new home near Doyle.

More than 100 cords of wood belonging to the Sligo company was burned lately, supposed to be set on fire by some malicious parties.

Miss Bishop, of Ironton, who is teaching on Strother, is getting along nicely with her school.

Next Sunday is the regular meeting time at the Baptist church of Goodland.

Hammond's oleomargarine and creamery butter for sale at Codding's.
